

POLICY REVIEW AND REVISION

All policies should be subject to regular review. As new conditions develop or situations change, it may be desirable to alter policy. If problems or issues can be resolved more effectively in ways other than those provided by existing policy, revision is clearly in order.

The Principal, on a continuing basis, shall call to the Board's attention to all policies that are out of date or in need of revision. The Board shall examine all policies annually to determine how the school staff has executed them.

Copies of Board policy manuals shall be kept current.
